The two forms of Type 1 are quite similar, and their vaccines are cross-protective. They tend to not affect young bunnies but have a very high mortality rate for adult rabbits. RHDV2, on the other hand, seems less deadly than the Type 1 strains, but affects all ages of rabbits. The RHDV2 vaccine only protects against that type. RHD is not a zoonotic disease and there is no public health significance. RHD is specific to rabbits. May act as carriers like vehicles, shoes and equipment can.

LIVESTOCK EXHIBITOR - CODE OF ETHICS

Believing it is in the best interest of all breeders of all livestock to maintain a reputation of integrity and to continue to present a wholesome and progressive image in the show ring, management lists herewith those practices which are considered unacceptable in presenting livestock at Fair. The use of such practices or procedures is, therefore, considered unethical in the showing of livestock at the Evergreen State Fair.

The following practices are not allowed:

- Misrepresenting the age of the animal for the class in which it is shown.

- Treating or massaging any part of the body internally or externally with an irritant, counter-irritant, or other substance to temporarily straighten a weak back or loin, or to produce unnatural animation.
- Minimizing the effects of cramping by feeding or injecting drugs, depressants or applying packs or using artificial contrivance or therapeutic treatment exempting normal exercise.
- Striking the animal to cause swelling in a depressed area.
- Surgery of any kind performed to change the natural process or growth, maturation, contour or appearance of any animal, including teeth. The removal of teats or horns, clipping and dressing hair and trimming of hooves is allowed.
- Insertion of foreign material under the skin.
- Any attempt to change natural color of an animal, either purebred or crossbred, by changing the color or adding false hair, fleece or skin at any point, spot or area of the animal's body.
- The use of alcoholic beverages in the feed or administered as a drench.
- Administration of drugs of any kind or description, internally or externally prior to entering the show ring, except for treating a recognized disease or injury and for the tranquilization of bulls that may otherwise be dangerous to females in heat.
- Balancing the udder by any abnormal means including the use of a mechanical contrivance or the injection of fluid or drugs.
- Treating or massaging the udder or its attachments with an irritant or counterirritant. The use of common products such as fly spray, ointment or liniment in excess to the extent that irritation occurs unless required to reduce edema at the time of calving.

The term "drug" shall mean any substance, the sole possession or use of which is controlled by license under Federal, State or local laws or regulations and by any substance commonly used by the medical or veterinary professions. The use of any chemical and/or compound that is not approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for use in meat producing animals, and the illegal use of approved chemicals and/or compounds are prohibited. All animals shall be subject to tests (blood, urine and/or tissue) for foreign substances that exceed the acceptable levels established by the United States Department of Agriculture, or the FDA. A positive test may result in disqualification, forfeiture of premiums and/or awards.

- In the event of potential animal activist activities, the following actions should be taken:
